Dear Justin,

As per our phone conversation today, I am writing concerning my experience with the BioFlex Professional Laser System.

I was a principal investigator for FDA clinical trials involving both the Microlight 830 Laser and the Bioflex. I am also experienced using the Erchonia and Omega lasers. To date I have treated over 6,000 patients (since March 1996).

The majority (98%) of my practice involves severe chronic conditions. These are patients who I refer to as "end of the line". They have had every possible type of treatment without success. Some have already tried to commit suicide. These are people who have serious medical problems. They need serious medical treatment, in my case Laser Treatment. Meaning no disrespect, all the others device, except the Bioflex System are "toys" in comparison. If a doctor wishes to treat sore muscles, use the Microlight or Erchonia or anything else. They will however be of little value for serious medical conditions.

Many doctors/organizations do not recommend Laser Therapy, primarily due to lack of success and education. This is a clear indication that the unit used was not a "Bioflex System." As Chuck Mooney, trainer of the Toronto Raptors wrote to Dr. Kahn, his previous experience with laser therapy was not favorable. He is now one of Bioflex Laser's greatest supporters. Even the head trainer of the Miami Heat, Ron Culp, expresses regret that it took him so long before he decided to get a Bioflex System.

There is absolutely no other laser system so thoroughly researched and engineered as the Bioflex. I know that between the clinic in Toronto and mine in Tucson and many others approximately 60,000 patients have been treated with the Bioflex System. There is no other unit that has so many proven, established protocols built into the software. There is no other unit that can adjust for color of skin, age and size of body. To not do so makes the other lasers less or non-effective.

The world's leading authorities in laser therapy have been involved in the design and continued development of the Bioflex System.

There is absolutely no comparison between the Bioflex and other laser systems. The design, development, research, protocols, adaptability and ease of use are second to none. I often discuss quality by using an analogy of Diamonds and Coal, both are classified as Carbon, but one is so much more valuable than the other (unless you are trying to heat your home). We have a classification of LASER. Within this classification there is a Diamond and lots of Coal. Hint-"the Bioflex is the Diamond."

Recently, I had a surprise visit from an FDA optics specialist. While explaining the features of the Bioflex she was absolutely overwhelmed when comparing it to other lasers I described above. One of her final comments was, "this laser is so simple that even doctors could use it". How's that for an endorsement?

As Chuck Mooney said in his letter, you need to get serious results when you treat players who make $30,000 every time they play". Serious treatment DEMANDS serious therapy i.e. the Bioflex Professional Laser System.

By the way, I am not an employee of Meditech, International and have NEVER earned a penny or a dollar for that matter, from the sale of a Bioflex unit. I am a clinician and teacher who has extensive experience with many lasers and is convinced there is only one DIAMOND in the LASER field. I am proud to tell anyone about the Bioflex System.
